- SEE REMARKS -

This dental chart is very important and should be filled in with great care. There are 32 teeth to be accounted for, as shown by the numbers on the chart. Beginning at the middle line in both upper and lower jaws, the teeth are arranged symmetrically on either side and classed as incisors (cutting teeth), cuspids or canines (tearing teeth), bicuspids (chewing teeth), and molars (principal chewing teeth). An examination should be made and findings charted to cover the following basic conditions: Lost teeth, crowned teeth, bridge work, fillings, caries (cavities of decay), dentures (plates), and any deformity of jaws found. See reverse side for illustrations.

The dental chart is very important and should be filled in with great care. There are 32 teeth to be accounted for, as shown by the numbers on the chart. Beginning at the midline in both upper and lower jaws, the teeth are arranged from incisors on the side and classed as incisors (cutting teeth), canines (point teeth), premolars (chewing teeth), and molars (milling and crushing teeth). The examination of the dental and radiographic charts is to reveal the following: being complete, missing, or over-retained; for work, filling, crown (caps or crowns), dentures (partials), and any other type of dental work. See reverse side for illustrations.

1. ABSCISSA (mm) - All teeth exhibit approx. 1/2 mm of wear on the buccal surface. The incisal edge is slightly rounded.

2. INCISAL (mm) - All teeth exhibit the normal wear pattern. The incisal edge is slightly rounded.

3. OCCLUSAL (mm) - All teeth exhibit the normal wear pattern. The occlusal surface is slightly rounded.

4. LABIAL (mm) - All teeth exhibit the normal wear pattern. The labial surface is slightly rounded.

5. LINGUAL (mm) - All teeth exhibit the normal wear pattern. The lingual surface is slightly rounded.

6. GENERAL REMARKS - In the anterior region, the incisal edge of the upper incisors is slightly rounded and the incisal angle is obtuse. The incisal edge of the lower incisors is slightly rounded and the incisal angle is obtuse.

ADDITIONAL SPACE FOR FURTHER REMARKS

1. ABSCISSA (mm) - All teeth exhibit approx. 1/2 mm of wear on the buccal surface. The incisal edge is slightly rounded.

2. INCISAL (mm) - All teeth exhibit the normal wear pattern. The incisal edge is slightly rounded.

Dear Mrs. McGue:

Your letter concerning your husband, the late Captain John B. McGue, has been received in this office.

The War Department has now been authorized to remove the remains of our honored dead, at Government expense, to the final resting place which next of kin may designate.

When the necessary verification of records has been completed, a "Letter of Inquiry -- Return of World War II Dead" will be mailed to you. The response to this letter will constitute a formal expression of your detailed desires as next of kin. Until you receive this letter of inquiry, therefore, it will not be necessary for you to communicate with this office regarding this subject, unless you desire to report any change of address. The necessity for complete coordination of movement in many parts of the world makes it impossible, at this time, to estimate when the letter will be mailed. Every effort, however, will be made to shorten the time between now and the date of mailing and your desires will be acted upon with a minimum of delay.

The records of this office have been amended to show that your address has been changed from Box 132, Dellalov, West Virginia to 2027 North Catalina Street, Los Angeles 27, California.

If you are the next of kin according to the line of kinship as set forth in the enclosed pamphlet, "Disposition of World War II Armed Forces Dead," you are invited to express your wishes as to the disposition of the remains of the deceased by completing Part I of the enclosed form "Request for Disposition of Remains." Should you desire to relinquish your rights to the next in line of kinship, please complete Part II of the enclosed form. Dear Mrs. McCue:

This is to inform you that the remains of your loved one have been permanently interred, as recorded above, side by side with comrades who also gave their lives for their country. Customary military funeral services were conducted over the grave at the time of burial.

After the Department of the Army has completed all final interments, the cemetery will be transferred, as authorized by the Congress, to the care and supervision of the American Battle Monuments Commission. The Commission also will have the responsibility for permanent construction and beautification of the cemetery, including erection of the permanent headstone. The headstone will be inscribed with the name exactly as recorded above, the rank or rating where appropriate, organization, State, and date of death. Any inquiries relative to the type of headstone or the spelling of the name to be inscribed thereon, should be addressed to the American Battle Monuments Commission, Washington 25, D. C. Your letter should include the full name, rank, serial number, grave location, and name of the cemetery.

While interments are in progress, the cemetery will not be open to visitors. You may rest assured that this final interment was conducted with fitting dignity and solemnity and that the grave-site will be carefully and conscientiously maintained in perpetuity by the United States Government.

Dear Mrs. McCue:

Reference is made to your application for a Government bronze marker to be erected in memory of your son, the late Captain John Burk McCue, whose remains are interred in a United States Military Cemetery in St. Laurent, France.

You are advised, Public Law 871, 80th Congress, authorizes the furnishing of Government headstones and markers for the graves of deceased members of the Armed Forces whose remains are interred therein. There is no authority to furnish a Government headstone or marker to be erected in a cemetery, as a memorial, when the remains of the veteran are not interred therein.

For your information, when a veteran's final burial takes place in a cemetery under Government control, either in the United States or a foreign country, the grave is permanently marked without any action on the part of the next of kin or the family of the decedent.

In view of the above, your application has been canceled.
