came down the north base and circled the hill on that side. This double envelopement was successful. At 0830 6 July 1944, Col. Maleney met Captain Schwartzwalder in the ridge and the Germans withdrew, leaving us in possession. Colonel Maleney organized a defensive position and established contact by patrol with the second Bn. There was a considerable gap between the two Bns, which the Germans kept full of snipers and riflemen. The 3rd Bn. held their positions until we were relieved, suffering all the time from German mortars and artillery.

On 7 July Col. Raff sent the 1st Bn. up on the ridge between the 3rd and 2nd Bns te fill the gap and pretect the flanks of the two Bns. already there. The 1st Bn started this attack at 1000 and passed through a line of the 325 which had spent the night behind and between our two Bns already there, and pushed up on the ridge flushing a force of Germans before them. Unfortunately, just as this fight started, Major Pearson went forward to reconneiter a position for his Battalion tegether with Colonel Maloney. The Germans opened fire and wounded both Bn. commanders which added to our confusion, and the 1st Bn was forced into a stiff fight which lasted until meen before they could master their section of the ridge. They succeeded, however, and by early afternoon all three Bns were on line, with contact established, facing south along the ridge. From these heights we had good observation over the valley to the south as far as the heights of Ment Castre. We established a regimental O.P. in the tower of the stable of the Chaten of Broquebecuf; and from there Lt. Young concentrated the central of all the Regimental mertars. That night the three battaliens sent out a company each to establish an OPL along the valley read to Le Haye du Puits. Lt. Young covered this movement with a heavy mortar concentration and the CPL was established during the night without enemy apposition. That marning, 8th July, the 8th Division passed through our lines.

But we weren't through with the Germans by any means. All through the day,
