THE JOINT SERVICE COMMENDATION MEDAL

Is presented to

SERGEANT GEORGE W. STEUBER

United States Army

For meritorious service in the performance of his duties during the period February 1970 to July 1970 while serving as Radio/Teletype Operator, Airborne Studies Group, Studies and Observations Group, Headquarters, United States Military Assistance Command, Vietnam. During this period, Sergeant STEUBER was instrumental in developing plans and programs to improve and expand the communications complex throughout his area of responsibility. He displayed outstanding qualities of leadership and professional skill in the preparation of plans and studies. His patience, attention to detail, moral courage, tact and diplomacy earned him the respect and admiration of his associates, and inspired them to emulate the standards of excellence and professionalism which typified his performance. Sergeant STEUBER's distinguished performance of duty represents outstanding achievement and reflects great credit upon himself and the military service.

CITATION TO ACCOMPANY THE AWARD OF THE DEFENSE MERITORIOUS SERVICE MEDAL

TO

GEORGE W. STEUBER

Major George W. Steuber, United States Army, distinguished himself by exceptionally meritorious service while serving as Australia, New Zealand and Melanesia Country Director, Strategic Planning and Policy Directorate, Headquarters, Commander in Chief, United States Pacific Command, and as Military Liaison Officer with the United Nations Advance Mission in Cambodia, from 1 March 1990 to 21 June 1992. During this period, his outstanding personal dedication, professional competence and unbounded initiative contributed significantly to the successful accomplishment of the Commander in Chief, United States Pacific mission. As Country Director, he meaningfully contributed to national policy on United States security relations in the South Pacific region, including participation in high level bilateral talks with Australia and Papua New Guinea. His vision greatly enhanced mutual understanding and improved interoperability. As one of only three United States officers selected nationwide to join the United Nations Advance Mission in Cambodia peacekeeping force, he displayed an exceptional ability to generate trust and confidence, and to gain the cooperation of the warring parties. His determination, courage, and commitment were cited by the United Nations Force Commander as the principal contribution to the generation of a more stable situation in central Cambodia. The distinctive accomplishments of Major Steuber reflect credit upon himself, the United States Army, and the Department of Defense.

TO

MAJOR GEORGE W. STEUBER
UNITED STATES ARMY

Major George W. Steuber, United States Army, distinguished himself by exceptionally meritorious service as Military Observer, United Nations Advance Mission in Cambodia, from December 1991 to June 1992. Major Steuber distinguished himself with his broad experience, superior versatility and outstanding commitment to the United Nations Mission. He was a principal contributor to a more stable security situation in central Cambodia. Through his efforts, a strong negotiating environment was created which converted to practical results in the field, thereby allowing the establishment of the United Nations presence in conflict areas. His tremendous efforts to accomplish his duties resulted in his being highly regarded for his professionalism by the Cambodian faction liaison officers and his United Nations colleagues. The distinctive accomplishments of Major Steuber reflect great credit upon himself, the United States Army, and the Department of Defense.

GEORGE W. STEUBER

Lieutenant Colonel George W. Steuber, United States Army, distinguished himself by exceptionally meritorious service as Branch Chief, Asia Branch, Intelligence Support Division, Directorate for Intelligence, J2, Defense Intelligence Agency from August 1995 to April 1997. Colonel Steuber's exceptional leadership, of daily intelligence support, and during a series of Asian crises, had direct, significant influence on the policies and national security of the United States. As Chief of the Korea and Taiwan Strait Working Groups, he provided incisive, balanced and accurate assessments for effective warning and crisis management to the President, the National Security Council, the Secretary of Defense, the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Unified Commands. He set the standard for cutting-edge assessments, receiving repeated high praise from his target audience. Colonel Steuber's team led the Intelligence Community in analysis of military threats in South Asia, insurgency in Kashmir and Afghanistan, potential instability in Burma and Indonesia, and military readiness, capabilities and intentions of North Korea. Through his distinctive accomplishments, Colonel Steuber reflects great credit upon himself, the United States Army, the Defense Intelligence Agency, and the Department of Defense.
